INTERESTING FROM CAMP MORTON -- We yesterday conversed with Major Wm H. Buford, of Delphi, who had been spending a day or two among the prisoners at Camp Morton, through the courtesy of our officers from Carroll county and the commandant of the post, Col. Owen, of the 60th Indiana. Major Buford had permission to visit all the departments in which prisoners were confined. He found a great many on the sick list. One fact in passing he noticed, viz: that guards had been posted between each regiment to prevent all opportunities of communication. He was astonished and gratified inexpressibly to remark that numbers of men were scated by their camp fires reading their pocket Bibles and hymn books. In conversation with the men they demeaned themselves courteously. They expressed themselves satisfied with the were still progressing under the direction of Col. Owen to render the prisoners as comfortable as possible. Cot. Owen is energetic and capable, and, having his heart in the right place, no one will suffer. Major Buford told us of encountering a prisoner who had but seventy five cents in his pocket, but who said he would give it all for a pone of corn bread. The majority of the prisoners have not been accustomed to baker's bread made of wheat flour. Major Buford immediately a benevolent lady of this city, Mrs. Barker, and shortly the prisoner's desires were gratified, the lady, with her own kind hands, baking him the pone. Major Buford made a suggestion to the officers in command at Camp Morton, that they should furnish the prisoners with corn meal. The sort of diet they have been accustomed to they should now have. If they have the meal, they can bake the pone for themselves.

Major Buford especially spoke of the endeavors of those in command at Camp Morton to maintain cleanliness among the men, and throughout their quarters. Indeed, with him, we feel assured that Commandant Owen will, in all respects, do his duty in the premises.

Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner and General Lloyd Tilghman, of the Confederate army, have been transferred as prisoners of war from this decently interred. city to Fort Lafayette, under a strong guard detailed by Lieut. Col. King. They left the city night before last. General Buckner, while the boat upon which he was being conveyed a prisoner to Jeffersonville was lying at New Albany, was visited by a number of his old acquaintances. He met them cordially, and conversed freely and unreservedly of his disaster at Fort Donelson. He stated that had it not been for Floyd and Pillow's cowardly desertion of him, he would have been able to cut his way through the Federal lines and escape with the greater portion of his army. He freely denounced the cowardly conduct of the "Great trious of military men, opens his levees at Ma Thief" and the "Ditch Digger," as the cause of sonic Hall to-night. e public generally are his present misfortunes. He even stated that invited. these men had made a proposition that the officers should e-cape from the fort and leave the privates to their fate-to be killed or taken prisoners, as the fortunes of the succeeding day might result. He spurned the base proposition. and determined to remain and share the fate of his men. He spoke in high terms of the daring valor of the Federal troops, and the soldierly qualities of their officers. He intimated that the rebellion had received a check from which it could never recover.

DEPARTURE OF REBEL OFFICERS.-Yesterday morning abon eleven o'clock, the rebel prisoners, officers of the Confederate army, captured at Fort Donelson, left the city, guarded by detachments detailed by Lieut. Colonel King, for Columbus, Ohio. They were marched down Washington and Illinois streets, from the building in which they had been confined, East of Odd Fellows Hall, to the Union Depot. Their embarkation on the railroad train was effected quietly and decently, no one of the immense crowd offering the slightest indignity to the unfortunate men. The appearance of the officers was cleanly and respectable, the necessaries for their personal comfort having been liberally provided by Governor Mortonand Lieut. Colonel King. Several of them even retained and wore their sidearms.

It should draw a good house independent of the claims Mr. Couldock has as an artist of first class standing. All the company will assist in the play.

Colonel Nicklin, one of the most accomplished and brave of our army officers, we understand has decided to leave the infantry service and raise an artillery battery to be employed in the service of his country. Col. Nicklin is a gentleman who has seen service and acquitted himself with distinguished honor, and we cordially commend him to our young and patriotic men. Col. Nicklin will have command of a heavy siege battery in the division of Major Frybarger, and we predict that both of these gallant officers will win new laurels for Indiana in the war for the maintenance of the Constitution and the preservation of the Union.

Our Army Correspondence.

CAIRO, Illinois, Feb. 25, 1862. MR. Epiton: I have just returned from Fort Donelson where, by the kindness of the Brigade Surgeons, the names of the killed, and a descriptive list of the wounded soldiers of the Indiana regiments were furnished me. I sent the whole to the Terre Haute papers this morning, and you you will copy my report as soon as you see it The official reports will necessarily be delayed

Many of the wounded have been sent to any other paper. Clubs for the Daily will be supplied at Mound City, six miles above Cairo, where for several days they have been under the immediate eye and skillful treatment of Dr. Athon, of The extra edition of the Sentinel, containing your city. The Doctor came here as a volunteer, and by his noble humanity in the treatment of the poor bleeding soldiers under his charge, he has won for himself laurels that cannot die or

This afternoon an order was received from headquarters, directed to Dr. Franklin, the Brigade Surgeon at Mound City, to remove to Cincinnati all convalescents, and all such wounded men as could endure the journey. There are about three hundred now ready to start thither by steamin charge of D. Athon. You will see the Doctor has his hunds full. We will not reach Cincinnati much before Thursday. Perhaps I will write again on the way, reporting progress.

XAVIER. Joint Sanitary Committee.

At a meeting of the Joint Sanitary Committee Indianapolis, on Wednesday, February 26, 1862, information was received from Governor Morton that he had sent Colonel Holloway to Paducah, Mound City and other points where our wounded in the late battle are, to report their names, numbers and wants, and from others as to the condition of the wounded and sick of our troops. Applications being laid before the committee showing the necessity of prompt action for the relief of our afflicted volunteers, after full consultation the following orders were Louisiana street is now perhaps one of the most business thoroughrares in the city. It is thronged daily in the vicinity of the Union depot. Nor is this to be wondered at when it is remembered that the Morris House, of which Mr. H. Whitmore is the accomplished proprietor, is located in this part of the city, and also that Mr. H. Walls, John Bussey and Roderick Bebee, Esqs., keep places of public resort contiguously.

THE PRISONERS .- A full list of the prisoners confined at Camp Morton and at other points in Indiana has been made out and is in the hands of the commandant, Col. Owen. There are some 4,000 at this place; some 250 at Terre Haute, and about 781 at Lafayette. If any of inal these unfortunate men have friends or relatives in this State the latter will be compelled to call upon Col. Owen to ascertain the fact. BY NANCY W. MONTAGUE. Within a prison's gloomy cell

Our brother is confined. But those who sent him there can't tell For what offense he was consigned.

By tyrants so unkind, Who heeded not the falling tear

Torn from all those held most dear

Of wife and mother left behind.

Yes, by oppression's iron hand, In prison now our brother lies, In old Kentucky, his native land, Where kindred hearts for him doth sigh,

But may their prayers for him ascend To God, who rules o'er land and sea, And wilt thou Lord now condescend, To answer one just breathed by me.

Oh! Lord, I pray that thou may sever Oppression's chains that binds our brother, And wilt thou God who rules forever.

Send Albert home to wife and mother. And also Lord I pray thee heal

The hearts that they have caused to bleed, On tyrants conscience set a seal That they may never cease to feel. BY REQUEST.
